warning residents to leave. The operation, in which Marines participated in a prisoner movement, was a drive against the Viet Cong who had controlled the valley for years, but most of them had fled before the United States forces arrived. (AP wirephoto by radio from Saigon)

Organized Labor Deep in Discontent With White House and Democrats

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor, once an acknowledged prime mover in politics, is dead in the winter of its discontent with the White House and Democrats.

And unless Johnson and Congress, the growing chill, the Democratic party could lose a major slice of its support when it needs it — in this year's congressional elections.

Altogether, labor union members and their family parts of the political wall-to-wall of the last 35 million voters. This compares with the total of 70,000,000 votes cast in the 1964 election that resulted in Johnson's landslide victory and the largest majority in Congress in nearly 30 years.

Labor's complaint against the way the political winds are blowing the capital is three-fold:

— Union chiefs think Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has been dragging his feet on the bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, the section which sanctions laws in 19 states banning union shop contracts, under which all employees must join the union.

— Johnson's refusal to hire White House wage guidelines from 1964 to 1965, while the latest national production figures, the guidelines set the size of wage increases acceptable to the White House as noninflationary.

— Johnson's catching at least part of labor's blame for failing to hold the Senate in session around the clock to break the Republican filibuster that stalled the 14B repeal bill last year.

President P.L. Slemmer of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, the nation's fourth largest union with nearly 1.5 million members, said: "I'm perfectly willing and prepared to recommend to our members that any member of Congress who failed to stand up to the administration's anti-labor machinist's dollar and vote."

Although the AFL-CIO has never accepted the White House wage guidelines, many "action" supporters of changing the rules in a slap at labor in holding to a four-year-old 32-per-cent guideline are based on an average increase of 3.5 per cent. This compares with the government's own figures show it has gone up to 3.6 per cent. If 1965 figures are added,

Reaction to Johnson's anti-strike proposal is more cautious. "This is the real slowdown between us and the big boys," in an AFL-CIO spokesman said.

3 Arrested In Crackdown On Drugs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Two high school boys and a druggist were arrested Wednesday and 21 other pupils were suspended from school in a crackdown on use of drugs in the Shaker High School of the Roman Colonie.

Police said Wednesday morning 17, and Michael J. Oliver, 19, both of Latham, with forging prescriptions to obtain drugs.

The druggist, Henry Dargan of Albany, was charged with selling a barbiturate cough syrup to a pupil. Dargan was indicted in Albany Police Court. Sentencing was deferred.

School officials said 14 high school boys, including Leonard, and 12 other pupils in high school had been suspended indefinitely "as the result of an investigation, with the cooperation of the state police, into the illegal use, procurement and use of barbiturates."

The barbiturates were cough medicine-and-prescription tranquilizers, they said, and "most of the tranquilizers were obtained through the use of forged prescriptions and counterfeited prescription forms."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Hopefully, the movement will take a needed step backward to the philosophy of Booker T. Washington, a Negro leader of native intelligence and consideration.

It is fashionable in some civil rights circles to deride Washington as an Uncle Tom, defined in this era as a Negro too eager to coexist with the white. But the evidence is clear that the movement is giving a new hearing to Washington's viewpoint.

This was, "basically, that the Negro could not depend upon the whites to pull him up, so he had to depend upon his own resources to fit himself for that equality."

There have been two recent signs of this new direction. James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), will be in Washington next week to speak at a joint meeting. He will bring both private and federal funds, which will devote itself to literacy and job training. And the Rev. Martin Luther King in living part-time in a Chicago slum to give emphasis to the social-worker aspect of his many activities.

THE TIME HAS COME — Farmer, and perhaps Dr. King, apparently have decided that the time has come to concentrate on helping the Negro to help himself. The Negro's own self-activist fight for civil rights laws is clear that those laws will be done by the federal government in the implementation of the legislation. For the Negro leader, the time has come to act as if he were not dependent upon the whites for his rights, and to prepare to take advantage of the rights and opportunities available to them.

Deminations and sit-ins are all very well, and they have brought results, but no ticket will train the Negro to a job in a white man's town or a northern slum for a job in a computer industry. Getting tossed in the slum produces martyrs, and even new laws, but it does not teach a Negro to read or put more money in his pay envelope.

LBV'S PROGRAM ON ITS MERITS — In this context, which sees the government taking charge of the civil rights revolution, it is revealing that there were no loud hurrahs or even brassy segregationist protests when President Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act. The message for new legislation to combat racial discrimination in housing and for fair trials for all. By now, such proposals seemingly are taken for granted by all but rabid racists. This is progress which would have seemed hopelessly remote only a few years ago.

Congress, of course, is sure to debate both proposals vigorously — but on their merits, not their racial overtones. There are those who challenge "Congress-right-to-left" — a citizen is not a citizen of property, but of a race. Eskimos or Chinese, there are those who question the federal jurisdiction on the selection of local juries and/or in the prosecution of civil rights cases.

CONSTITUTIONAL ANGLES — Indeed, Johnson probably is on dangerous ground in the housing bill, because he seems to tamper with the constitutional guarantees of private property rights. But in his fair-trial proposal he seeks to protect the Negro from racial discrimination in the same Constitution. Demanding that juries in state and federal courts be selected on a non-discriminatory basis surely is in the spirit of the Bill of Rights. And intimidation of civil rights workers is a violation of a federal, not a local, guarantee.

Locally, Washington is moving to remove all racial prejudices, and in doing so it seems to enjoy a wide acceptance among the electorate. Dr. King, Dr. King can contribute to the feeling that the administration's civil rights movement off the streets and into the classroom. This is, after all, a country in which the number of Negro families earning over $7,000 a year has tripled in the last 10 years.

Views of Others

MALINFORMED BOOGS

We like hard work, morality, fair play, good sportsmanship, civic virtue, incorruptibility, the Ten Commandments, motherhood, and we like beauty.

We like beauty well enough to think that Lady Bird Johnson is a good example of her efforts to make America more beautiful.

It is not from a spirit of caring, reflective anti-Johnsonism that we elect a shocked "holy mackerel" at Our Lady's beauty bill, nor that the bill has arrived, of all places, in the Congress.

Montana has $647,300 to spend on highway beautification now and then July 1. If the money is not spent then it lapses back to Uncle Sam.

The Montana Highway Department naturally wants to spend it, and proposes to spend $120,000 of it beautifying a stretch of interstate near Kalispell.

The $120,000 figure conjures up miles and miles of lovely highway; the instinct is appropriate.

INSTINCT ERS.

For that big wad of Jack will beautify only a mile-and-a-half of highway. Travelling 60 miles an hour, the average world citizen would spend a total of about $447,300 would beautify 8.91 miles of Montana's approximately 400 miles of completed interstate highway.

Beauty can be breathtaking, and that beauty of a stretch is more than enough to take the breath away. Shrubs, trees and a sprinkling system would beautify that lucky mile-and-a-half.

If this is done (it won't be, but imagine if it were) then each of the 1,174 miles of interstate highway Montana eventually will have, the bill will come to $941,200,000. Spending, at the rate of $1 million a year, Montana highway beautification will be completed by the year 2000.

However, the adult of 18 or 19 is still a child in the eyes of the law governing purchase and consumption of beer and liquor. Idaho law specifies an age of 20 to buy or consume beer. And the citizen has to wait another year before becoming eligible to purchase or consume beer, liquor or wine in an election.

These laws governing consumption of intoxicants may be quite proper. And the ages for draft registration and exclusion from the Youth Rehabilitation Act also may be quite proper. But the total result is a lot of confusion, especially in the minds of young men. They reason if they're old enough to buy beer, then they're old enough to consume beer or cast a ballot as a full-time citizen. If they so desire. Anyone who thinks otherwise would have a tough time convincing the young men.

To make the laws even more confusing, a young man of 17 years of age can enlist in the armed services. And once in uniform, he can walk into a Post Exchange and buy a bottle of beer with out any reason even so much as asking to look at a driver's license!

There must be some way of standardizing these various laws regarding minimum ages for various privileges. There is enough confusion in a young person's mind to make him think he's 17 years old.

Officers were re-elected by directors of the Carey Valley Reservoir Co., which operates Fish Creek Reservoir. It was incorporated Wednesday.

Fish Creek Reservoir held 18,500 acre feet of water Feb. 1.

THURSDAY, February 10—Born today, you will probably have a good deal of energy during your young adulthood—but with time such difficulties should pass and you should be able to progress smoothly without difficulty along your chosen line of work. You will have to learn what to take seriously in life and what to let pass without upset to your nervous system; when the peaceful emotional temperament you need.

Gifted with a combination of artistic talent and business ability, you should be able easily to commercialize on the one through your acumen the other. On the other hand, you may be somewhat reticent about your ideas and your opinions, and may decide to keep the results of your labors on this score more or less to yourself—as a hobby. Either way, however, your "inner火" talents will not be diminished.

You will have natural sympathy for those less fortunate than you, and even have to give away material possessions to such people almost as fast as you accumulate them. In this regard, you would be wise to remember that you can never really "win" your first loyalty; should be "in your own family. Do what you can for others—but do not deny your own in the doing.

Episcopalian Ministry Plan Is Explained

A new ministry plan is now in operation by the Episcopalian Churches of Magic Valley, according to Rev. Warren L. Howell, Twin Falls.

The new plan, which became effective Jan. 1, is called the Regional Team Ministry and will operate under the supervision of the Bishop of Idaho, Rt. Rev. Norman L. Foote, Boise.

Presiding over the Central Deaconery, which includes Magic and Wood River valleys, is the Rev. George Quarterman Jr., Burley, who acts as deacon by appointment of the Bishop. In the new allocation of pastoral responsibilities, Rev. George Quarterman Jr., Vicar of St. James' Church, Burley, will also assist at the Church of the Ascension, Twin Falls, and will the Ven. William C. Johnson, Archdeacon of the district.

Rev. Warren L. Howell, rector of Ascension Parish, will also serve as pastor to the Trinity Church, Burley. Rev. John Tulk, vicar of Shoshone, will be in charge of Trinity Church, Ririe.

Rev. Fred Pickett, vicar of Trinity-Memorial Church, Rupert, will be in charge of Calvary Church, Jerome, and Rev. W. Douglas Elwin, will continue as vicar of St. Thomas Church, Ketchum, and Emmanuel Church, Hailey.

The policy-making group is now the Deaconery Council, created by the vestry convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Idaho, and includes all clergy of the deaconery and elected delegates from all congregations.

Delegates from Ascension, Pocatello, St. James', Rev. Mr. T. M. Robertson, Wesley Watson, Jack Threlkeld, Jack D. Mattison and Douglas D. Kramer, all Twin Falls, and Rev. N. L. Foote, Boise.

The new deaconery also will be assisted by the lay leaders, Bert Larson, Jack Mattison and Bill Rigney, all of the Twin Falls parish, and William Nunn, of Hailey.

It is expected that a seminarian from one of the Episcopal Theological Schools will be on the staff in Twin Falls and Burley during the year 1966-67. According to Rev. Howell, the plan has been approved by the vestry of Ascension Parish and the Bishop's Committee of the Diocese, and by all other congregations in the deaconery. ADD: Episcopalian.

Howell added, "regional" team ministers like this new plan should be in operation in the Idaho Falls area in 1967, in the county area of Payette, Weiser and Emmett.

They are all part of the Pilot Project, a plan by which experiments are being made developed in various parts of the United States, under the sponsorship of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church in the U.S.A.

Coordinator of the program is Rev. Charles Wilson, Boise. The new staff member this year is Rev. George Ross, Pocatello.

Carey Valley Reservoir Co., which operates Fish Creek Reservoir. It was incorporated Wednesday. Lewin Cortes is president; Leo Eddridge, vice president; and Joe Rush, secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Gordon Drage and Lee Peterson.

Fish Creek Reservoir held 18,500 acre feet of water Feb. 1.

with a maximum of 14,411 acre feet. The record date was a maximum 30,000 acre feet. Lowell Mecham, watermaster, stated Monday.

There was a gain of only 85 acre feet at Little Wood in a two week period and cold weather is expected to increase inflow.

Warmer weather was the reason inflow was expected to increase inflow.

March were highlights of the Twin Falls PTA Council meeting, held Tuesday at Olds' Junior High School.

Mrs. Hayes, along with three other Twin Falls parents from all over the nation, attended the White House Conference on International Cooperation.

It was announced that on March 30, four speakers representing the State Department will speak at the PTA's meeting to present talks on various phases of State Department policy. All four will speak at a special panel to the combined PTA groups of Twin Falls and the Owyhee County PTA.

He had weighed 338 pounds, "spread over a 6-foot-4 frame."

Individual memberships in the council are, Sunset District, 232 less than last year.

Mrs. Pierce Roan, council president, and the local Parent-Teacher Association is stressing the use of membership cards as credentials for voting in PTA affairs and that the district will use them as a registration device during the meeting later in the spring.

John Lawrence, Twin Falls High School FFA instructor, will discuss parliamentary procedure at the April council meeting.
